BUS T

: Meeting of the Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs of the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee tended the executive session of the subcommittee beginning at 2 p.m. on 10 February.

- 2. Witnesses before the subcommittee were US Ambassador to Haiti Enymond L. Thurston and US Ambassador to Venezuela C. Allan Stewart. The session lasted approximately two and a half hours.
- 3. Ashaneador Thurston appeared first and began with a general statement of the situation in Haiti. With respect to the Communist threat in Haiti, he stated that in his judgment the Communists are not now in a position to seize power. However, the lenger the Duvalier regime remains in power the greater will be the mitimate Communist capability of coming to power. The Ambassador rather clearly implied that it is 33 policy to support a responsible and capable group of Haitians who are opposed to Duvalier in the expectation that they will, before very many sore months, form an acceptable successor regime.
- Ambassador Thurston stated that at present Saiti does not appear high on the priority list of Cuban subversion. Hampering any Cuban subversive effort against Haiti would be the language barrier and the fact that Haitian Communists are oriented more toward France and the French Communist circles than they are toward Cuba. Nevertheless, Cubas propagands is directly beamed at Haiti and there are some 100,000 creeks appeaking people of Haitian descent living in Cuba who would be used in a subversive effort against Haiti. He knows of one Haitian Communist who has received generally training in Cuba there Deposts and assumed that others probably have.
- 5. Daring the question period, there were neveral items of interest discussed. Representative Fascell queried the Ambassader on a report that Duvalier Nest a mission to Moscow last year seeking Soviet assistance. The Ambassader affirmed that this was the case—he was referring to Saymond A. Noyse, Duvalier's ex-Foreign Minister who is believed to have visited Moscow in June 1962. The Ambassader expressed some doubt as to how seriously the Soviets may have treated any approach from Eniti, but did state that the Enitlance did appear to be trying to play the other side of the Street during the Funta del Este conference in January 1962.

- of the only time CIA was specifically mentioned during the testimony was when depresentative Thomson asked Ambassador Thurston what were the ways in which the US is attempting to cause the energence of a more responsible government to replace Davaller's. The Ambassador replied that what we are trying to do is to influence the capable and responsible fluitians who would probably replace Duvalier. The Representative queried: "Through CIA." The Ambassador answered: "I would hope we could all play a role."
- Ambanascor Stowart opened his tentimony with a general statement stressing his view that President Setamoourt is proving to be an extremely effective opponent of the Venezuelan Communists and, because of this; in Venezuela 'we are winning." He credits hetancourt with having understood Castro from the beginning. There is no question, the Ambassader stated, that Venezuela is Castro's first target in Latin America. However, the Cubane "are not getting away with it." They have supplied propagands and have trained hundreds of Venezuelans: in guerrilla warfare. There is no evidence of Cuban arm: aid. which would really be unaccessary since there are hundrods of weapons floating around Venezuela. There is evidence of some Cuben financial assistance. However, the Vegozoelan Communist guerrilla effort which is straight out of the Cuban book -- is failing because the Comminist guerrilles lack peasant support. The Communists are having botter success in the cities, but even here the situation is improving markedly as the police become better trained. The Ambassador concluded that "the situation in Venezuela is under control."
- 8. Inring the question period, Representative Fascell attempted to clarify the Ambassador's references to the danger to Venezuela from Cuba. The Ambassador's raply wis to the effect that, while the Venezuelas Communists would be fighting Betancourt whether or not there was a Castro in Cuba, nevertheless the Castro regime in Cuba does represent a "very dangerous" throat to Betancourt. Castro.

the Ambassacor stated, provided a "shot in the arm to the Yesuzuelan Communists."

- 9. Another question dealt with the old stories that Betancourt is a crypto-Communist, which the Ambassandor dismissed as being inconceivable in the light of Setancourt's action since becoming president.
- of the extradition of ex-dictator Perez Jimenez which is now going through the US sourts. The congressmen indicated that they had received many letters on this subject. The Ambanandor's opinion is that Perez Jimenez should and must be extradited back to Venezuels if the US Supreme Court decides he is extraditable.
- 11. During the testimony of both Assemmenders, Representative E. A. Gross made a point of asking how long they had been serving in their current posts and bow long they had been in the US Foreign Service.
